Browsing and Searching for eUnits at Onyxon.ca
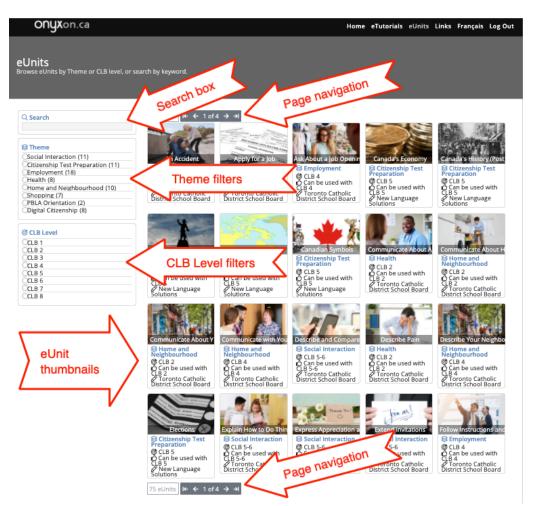

Teachers can use the eUnit Browser to browse, preview and select eUnits. Selected eUnits can be used to build custom courses.

1. Log in to the onyxon.ca portal.

2. Click the large "Browse eUnits" button or the "eUnits" menu link at the top of the page.

   The eUnits page appears. It shows thumbnails of all eUnits arranged by title alphabetically.
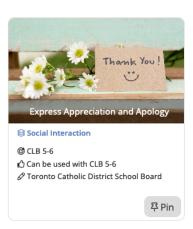

3.

   The eUnits page includes a Search box to search by keyword and filters to sort eUnits by theme and CLB level. eUnits can be filtered by either theme or CLB level or both theme and CLB filters can be used simultaneously to narrow down a search.
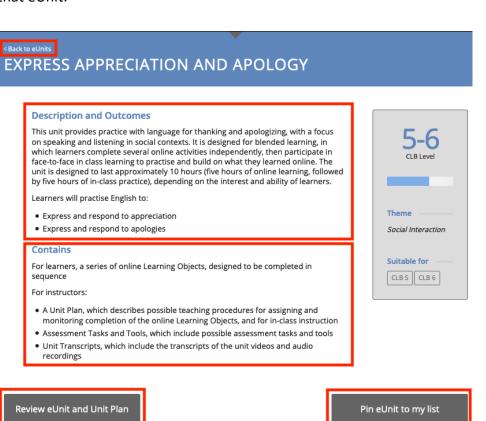

After starting a search, click the Reset Search button above the Search box to reset the filters.

EXPRESS APPRECIATION AND APOLOGY

Description and Outcomes

This unit provides practice with language for thanking and apologizing, with a focus on speaking and listening in social contexts. It is designed for blended learning, in which learners complete several online activities independently, then participate in face-to-face in class learning to practise and build on what they learned online. The unit is designed to last approximately 10 hours (five hours of online learning, followed by five hours of in-class practice), depending on the interest and ability of learners.

Learners will practise English to:

- Express and respond to appreciation
- Express and respond to apologies

Contains

For learners, a series of online Learning Objects, designed to be completed in sequence

For instructors:

- A Unit Plan, which describes possible teaching procedures for assigning and monitoring completion of the online Learning Objects, and for in-class instruction
- Assessment Tasks and Tools, which include possible assessment tasks and tools
- Unit Transcripts, which include the transcripts of the unit videos and audio recordings

Use this eUnit in my Moodle Course

The eUnit panel displays details about the eUnit's language focus in the Description and Outcomes section. There is also a section describing the Contents of the eUnit. At the bottom of the panel are two buttons. The Review eUnit and Unit Plan button opens the eUnit in Moodle, so its entire contents can be previewed. The Pin eUnit to my list button (under development) is used to add the eUnit to a course. (Use the Pin button in the eUnit thumbnail as an alternative to the Pin eUnit to my list button.) The Back to eUnits link at the top left corner closes the eUnit panel and return to the eUnits page.

5. Click the Review eUnit and Unit Plan button (lower left corner) to preview the unit.

All of the contents can be previewed. This includes the resources in the section For Instructors, such as the Unit Plan, and the learning activities in the For Learners section, such as the H5P learning objects. After exploring an activity or resource, click the Return to eUnit Overview button in the lower right corner to get back to the preview page. When you want to stop previewing the contents of an eUnit, click the Close button, also in the lower right corner.

6. Click the Close button (lower right corner) to exit the eUnit preview page.

7. Click the Back to eUnits link (top left corner) to close the eUnit panel page.
