

Feedback Activities

Overview

Feedback surveys are questions to answer about your learning. They are usually in the first topic of your course, but they might also appear later in the course.

Providing Feedback

1. Click on the Feedback activity in your course.

2. A landing page opens. Read the instructions and click on the Answer the questions button.

A screenshot of the survey landing page. The title is "Digital Citizenship Course Planning Survey" with a search icon. Below the title is a paragraph of text: "This survey will help create a new course for learners using Onyx.ca. The purpose of the course will be to develop learners' skills and knowledge of digital technologies to help them participate in society, communicate with others and create and use digital content. Thanks for your assistance." At the bottom, a button labeled "Answer the questions" is highlighted with a red border.

3. If there are multiple-choice questions, click on the answer that best fits you. If there are short-answer or essay-type questions or comment boxes, type your answer in the textbox.

A screenshot of the survey questions and answer options. The title is "Digital Citizenship Course Planning Survey" and the mode is "Anonymous". The first question is "Digital Access" with the statement "Everyone needs to have digital access and digital skills to be a full citizen in modern society." Below the question are five radio button options: "Agree", "Partially agree", "Not sure", "Partially disagree", and "Disagree". A red arrow points to the "Agree" option. Below the question is a text box labeled "Comments related to digital access." with a red arrow pointing to it. At the bottom, there are two buttons: "Next page" (highlighted with a red border) and "Cancel".

4. Click on Next page to view and answer more questions.
5. Click the Submit your answers button when finished.

6. Click the Continue button to return to the course page.
